

MEMBER MICRO NEWS UPDATE: 18 June 2015

The much awaited and long overdue draft of the St Kilda Road South Precinct Urban Design & Land Use Framework (covering much of the JAAG area) has been released today by Port Phillip Council for five weeks of community consultation.

This Framework is extremely important to all of us, when finalised it establishes the strategic basis for new planning controls to guide future land use change, the design and scale of new building development which includes height, setbacks, etc. It also identifies opportunities to enhance streets, public spaces and transport connections, bike paths, etc.

You will receive information in the next few days from Council as to the community consultation process, which we encourage you to participate in. Council have invited submissions until 23rd July 2015 (there are various ways you can make your submission).

Go to our JAAG website (www.jaagstkilda.com) for the latest news on this hot topic and for an online link to the Council's website to view the Strategic Framework and all information relating to it.
